INTRODUCTION
An income tax is a tax imposed on individuals that varies with the income or any other taxable income of the taxpayer. In India, The Income Tax Law comprises The Income Tax Act 1961, Income Tax Rules 1962, Notifications and Circulars issued by Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT), Annual Finance Acts and Judicial pronouncements by Supreme Court and High Courts. It serves as the Government’s biggest revenue mobilizer. The persons who are taxable by the government includes individuals, companies, firms, association of persons, body of individuals, local authority and any other artificial judicial person.

The Ministry of Finance, Govt. Of India’s Revenue department governs The Indian Income Tax Department. The income tax collected is used by the government to fund the various needs of the people and ensure the development of our country in highly progressive manner. It is seen that only 2-3% of the Indians pay income tax. It is estimated that almost one-fifth of India’s annual gross domestic product (almost $1.9 trillion as of 2011) is lost due to unpaid taxes on the “black economy.”
